Founded in 1711, Beaufort, South Carolina, located in the heart of the Carolina Lowcountry midway between Charleston and Savannah, harbors a rich repository of 18th and 19th century houses with remarkable architectural variety.

During the Fall Festival of Houses and Gardens visitors are invited to explore Beaufort from a rare vantage point: a selection of private homes and gardens normally not open to the public welcomes visitors inside. The houses represent three centuries of Beaufort architecture for which the city is justly famous. These self-paced walking tours offer a distinctive opportunity to observe how contemporary lifestyles are lived within the framework of our unmatched architectural heritage.

Historic Beaufort Foundation is a non-profit organization charged with the mission to preserve, protect and restore buildings and sites of historic or architectural significance in Beaufort County.

The Fall Festival of Houses and Gardens is the primary fundraiser for Historic Beaufort Foundation; proceeds from the event further these preservation efforts. The Foundation is grateful to the generous homeowners and cheerful volunteers for their contributions on behalf of the Foundation. We welcome our visitors and appreciate your support.

WALKING TOUR Beaufort Historic District

Friday, October 25

1-4 | 2-5 | $60

Among the six properties open this afternoon are two houses along Bay Street which have undergone major renovations: the Robert Means House, c. 1805 and the William Ritchie House, c. 1883. In addition two houses along Duke Street will be open as well as a charming small cottage on North Street. This self-paced walking tour also includes a tour of the Verdier House, c. 1804, which is Historic Beaufort Foundation's house museum.

RAMBLE AROUND BEAUFORT

Saturday, October 26

10-3 | 11-4 $60

Among the six properties open today are The Dr. Joseph Johnson House, c. 1861. Known locally at "The Castle" this house is one of the most beautiful and unique of the city's historic properties. The William Fripp house, c. 1850, fronts on the Beaufort River and is an iconic example of Beaufort style architecture. The garden of the Robert Smalls house, itself a National Historic Landmark will be open following a restoration. A short drive from downtown, visit Wimbee Creek Farm. The residence was created from historic structures moved to the site and placed among live oak trees to create a charming home. The current owners have created a flower farm from the fields and old barn: truly a beautiful sight to behold and not to missed!

Automobile transportation required to visit the farm.
